

The Four Peacocks

Yadhoorsh

Published by

The Four Peacocks

Copyright © 2021 by Bonfring

All rights reserved. Authorized reprint of the edition published by Bonfring. No part of this book may be reproduced in any form without the written permission of the publisher.

Limits of Liability/Disclaimer of Warranty: The authors are solely responsible for the contents of the paper in this volume. The publishers or editors do not take any responsibility for the same in any manner. Errors, if any, are purely unintentional and readers are required to communicate such errors to the editors or publishers to avoid discrepancies in future. No warranty may be created or extended by sales or promotional materials. The advice and strategies contained herein may not be suitable for every situation. This work is sold with the understanding that the publisher is not engaged in rendering legal, accounting, or other professional services. If professional assistance is required, the services of a competent professional person should be sought. Further, reader should be aware that internet website listed in this work may have changed or disappeared between when this was written and when it is read.

Bonfring also publishes its books in a variety of electronic formats. Some content that appears in print may not be available in electronic books.

ISBN 978-81-953813-4-0

Authors

Yadhoorsh

Bonfring

309, 5th Street Extension, Gandhipuram,

Coimbatore-641 012,

Tamil Nadu, India.

E-mail: info@bonfring.org

Website: www.bonfring.org

Yadhoorsh is a five-year-old kid living with his mom and dad in Thanjavur, Tamilnadu, India crafted his first book, 'The Four Peacocks'. Yadhoorsh describes what it's like the peacock and the birds became friends in this book, and was sure to include hand-drawn illustrations to help explain to other children. He completed this book in two days but not more than seven to eight hours in total.

Yadhoorsh is a Grade-I student studying in Pushpalatha British International School, Tirunelveli had recently attended the online session in Library Love Reading Programme organized by the school. Once the session completed, his English teacher gave one of the assignments to students stating write your own story like the author who interacted with you now. There he got the inspiration to write his own book and he picturized this book 'The four Peacocks'.

Yadhoorsh decided to use illustrations a lot because "if I say a lot of words, kids like me find it difficult to understand the content and it will not reach the toddlers better". Yadhoorsh is a very creative writer and craft maker. He is very much interested in delivering speech, storytelling and drawing cartoon characters. Recently Yadhoorsh had written a poem about doctors on Doctor's day and got appreciation from his school. He is also a good skater and known well among his age group as fast learner.